SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergast, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did. Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times. Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs. In half a century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it."

MAP

Is issued by the Government on the Pocahontas Coal Field.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The "Pocahontas special map" has just been published by the United States Geological Survey as a part of the topographic map of the United States which is being made by the Geological Survey in rectangular sections, most of which represent areas of about 200 square miles each. The area shown on the Pocahontas sheet covers portions of western Virginia and southeastern West Virginia and, as the name implies, includes the famous Pocahontas coal area. The survey of the West Virginia portion was carried on in co-operation between the Federal Geological Survey and the State of West Virginia, each paying one-half the cost of the field work. The map is published on a scale of one mile to one inch, with fifty-foot-contour interval. It gives an excellent delineation of the topography of the country—the mountains, valleys, ridges, slopes, rivers, creeks, and all other natural features—besides all the works of man. The town of Pocahontas is located in the south-central portion of the area, and the Geological Survey's bench mark 'at this point shows an elevation of 2,220 feet above sea level. The topographic surveying of the Pocahontas area was done by F. E. Matthes, E. P. Davis, and S. E. Taylor, under the direction of R. B. Marshall, chief geographer. The map is sold by the United States Geological Survey for 5 cents a copy, or $3 a hundred, the cost of paper and printing. Application should be made to the Director, Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

BOWLING NEWS

These men were substituted by Currence and Welch, who performed very creditably.

Captain Carr's team won two of the three games, losing the first game by four pins. Meeks, of the Craigs, had the high score of this contest, that of 138, and also the high average, getting 118 for the three games. McNulty was the best performer for Carr's team.

The scores:

	Carrs.	Craigs.
Carr	93 129 96—318
Knox	85 86 89—260
Williams	89 113 82—284

Following the rolling of the above postponed game Captain Carr's team met and defeated Captain Parker's team in a regular scheduled game for Monday evening. The result in this game was the same as in the first game inasmuch as Captain Carr's team won two of the three games. The Carrs might have made it three straight but Captain Carr took Knox out for the last game, and went in himself and thereby broke up a winning combination but at that the Carrs would have had to go some, as the Parkers rolled 537 in the last game, which was good.

Captain Parker had his eight men present and kept shifting them until the last game, when he got going probably his best combination. Cole took the booby prize of the league, when in the first game he got 69, the lowest score rolled so far in the league. Captain Parker benched him, but he came back in the last game and helped win when he got a good score of 114.

In this contest Captain Parker had the high roll, that of 126, and also the high average for three games, that of 105. McFarlin and Knox rolled good for Carr's team.

The scores:

	Carrs.	Parkers.
Carr	110 87—197

Pays For Itself and Benefits Everybody

Merchants

National Cash Registers benefit merchants by preventing mistakes, carelessness, and misunderstandings.

Mistakes cause loss, losses reduce profits and interfere with the growth of a business. Nationals cause clerks to increase their sales and benefit the merchants by increased profits.

This is important, but not nearly so much so as the lessons of exactness and honesty which the National teaches.
